ASHEVILLE, N. C.

"In the Land of the Sky"

Asheville, the principal city of Western North Carolina and the county seat of Buncombe County, North Carolina, has long been famous as a year around resort city, and as a distribution and industrial center of importance in the mid-south. The population of Asheville in 1932 is 50,193 and that of Buncombe County 97,937. Occupying a position on a high tableland, 2,300 feet above sea level in the mountains of Western North Carolina, the city is favored with a climate which is mild at all seasons and which is a contributing factor to the fame of the city as a resort.

The mountain region surrounding Asheville has long been known by the poetic title of "The Land of the Sky." The name was first applied to the region by Christian Reid (Mrs. Frances Christian Fisher Tiernan), a gifted author. The section is noted for the beauty of the mountains and for the crystal clear atmosphere, a product of the high altitude. The mountains of the Land of the Sky have an individuality and a charm of their own; they are traversed by clear streams of pure water and in many of the high mountain valleys, lakes have been created which add much to the charm of the section.

Industrial and commercial activity in Western North Carolina center upon Asheville as the principal center of trade. The amount of the annual tourist trade in the section is an important factor in the wealth of the city and surrounding trade areas. Abundance of water power and natural resources has resulted in a growing industrial activity. Manufacturing has followed a number of different lines. Leather, paper, blankets, rayon, bleached cotton goods furniture, brooms, mica products, dimension lumber, homespun woolens and other products are produced in the plants of the section. Since 1900, the value of manufactured products in Buncombe County has increased from $3,000,000 to more than $36,000,000. Near Asheville the American Enka Corporation is operating a $10,000,000 rayon plant which has more than doubled the total value of manufactured goods in the county.

Water power in Western North Carolina is a great contributing factor in the industrial growth of the section. The dam of the Carolina Power Company on the Pigeon River, near Asheville, is the newest unit in hydro-electric development in the mountains of this region. The dam develops more than 100,000 horsepower.

The business and commercial development of Asheville is measured by the dollar volume of business in the city, which has increased over one hundred percent in the past ten years. The population has increased 94.7 percent in the past decade. Asheville has a splendid public school system, consisting of ten grammar schools, two junior high schools and one senior high school for white pupils and four grammar schools and one high school for colored children. A Junior College is also a part of the educational system.

The city has a well-developed civic center which is constructed around Pack Square. A public library, a city market, the central fire station and the handsome new city and county buildings are located here. The city has a well constructed system of public streets, including several viaducts and bridges connecting the eastern part of the municipality with the West Asheville section beyond the French Broad River. The Beaucatcher Vehicular Tunnel adds to the convenience of motor traffic entering the city from the east.

Mountain Industries

The mountain industries are uniquely characteristic of Asheville and Western North Carolina. They had their origin over thirty years ago under the sponsorship of George W. Vanderbilt, and are profitably operated by the moun taineers of the section. Among the industries might be mentioned the Biltmore Industries, located near Grove Park Inn, where pure woolen homespun is made by mountain weavers on hand looms. The Asheville Weavers also operate a similar plant. Mountain potteries located near the city, mountain blacksmiths working in home forges, mountain weavers and hand workers laboring in mountain cabins, the Tryon Wood Carvers at Tryon, N. C., carving artistic and useful objects from wood, rug making and quilting are among the innumerable enterprises which engage the attention of the mountain handcraft workers.

Asheville As a Resort

Asheville is the center of a scenic playground which is frequented by many thousands of visitors at all seasons of the year. Eleven modern inns and hotels cater to the wants of a cosmopolitan crowd and offer a wide range of accommodations. Both American and European plan hotels are available. Five golf courses offer a wide variety of play to the visiting golfer and there are seventeen other courses located in other cities and towns in Western North Carolina. Courses in Asheville are available at the Biltmore Forest Country Club, the Asheville Country Club (2 courses), the Malvern Hills Golf Club and the Asheville Municipal Golf Club. Riding, swimming, tennis, hiking, horseback riding and other activities contribute to the pleasure of the visitor in "The Land of the Sky."

Asheville offers the facilities of seven excellent theatres. A baseball club, a member of the Piedmont League, gives the added attraction of minor league baseball during the summer months. Football games are featured during the autumn season in the Asheville Memorial Stadium. The city is the scene for important golf and tennis tournaments each year. Asheville is the last resting place of the famous writer O. Henry, and a memorial collection of contemporary books is established in his memory at the Pack Memorial Library.

The Rhododendron Festival held each year in June, in Asheville, is one of the South's most colorful celebrations.

Government

Asheville's city government is that of City Manager and Board of nine Councilmen.

Asheville has provided first class fire and police protection and the city has constructed public swimming pools and recreation parks. The municipal water system is one of the best in the United States and has been developed to care for a rapidly growing population. The source of water, the high mountain summits, provides a soft quality in the water supply, making softening processes unnecessary. The water has a high rating in purity and excellence

History

Asheville was established in 1794. It was at that time called Morristown, the city being founded by John Burton. In 1797 the town was incorporated as Asheville, the name being derived from that of Samuel and John Ashe, noted men of the period. The Council-Manager form of government was adopted in April, 1931. The boundaries of the city have been enlarged from time to time, the last extension having been made in 1929.

Transportation

The Southern Railway serves Asheville with four lines which give the city rail connections with all parts of the country. Increasing freight traffic through the city has necessitated the construction of a new freight station. Nearly 1,000 miles of paved state highways connect Asheville with other parts of "The Land of the Sky," making motoring one of the most attractive means of seeing the scenic beauty of the mountain region. The state of North Carolina has been one of the leading states in the construction of good roads and the highways at Asheville connect with trunkline motor routes leading to all parts of the state. National highways meet here, giving motor connections with all parts of the United States.

Agriculture

The region around Asheville is being extensively developed for farming. Tobacco is one of the principal cash crops, Asheville being an established tobacco market with two warehouses in operation. Apples from the high mountain orchards and grapes from the famous Tryon vinyards are important products. Dairy products are also important. Farming of the section is diversified in character. Poultry raising is growing in favor and importance as a branch of agriculture. The annual income from farm products is increasing each year.

Biltmore House and Gardens

Asheville is the site for the famous Biltmore House, surrounded by its extensive gardens and its 15,000 acres of estate. The house is now open to public view as is also the estate. The huge chateau, one of the finest private homes in America, contains many rare objects of artistic and historical value.

The Asheville Scenic Highway circling the summits of nearby mountains is a favorite route for visitors. Scenic points of interest near the city include: Chimney Rock and Lake Lure, the Sapphire Country, the resorts near Hendersonville and Tryon, Caesar's Head, Blowing Rock, the Linville Falls and Gorge, Mount Mitchell, highest mountain in Eastern America, Mount Pisgah, the Pisgah and Nantahala National Forests, the Royal Gorge, the Blue Ridge, the Nantahala Gorge and many other points of interest.

The Great Smoky Mountains

West from Asheville lie the Great Smoky Mountains, now the location for a national park of 450,000 acres. Motor roads extend across the new park through what is now the last remnant of the great wilderness which formerly covered the entire eastern portion of the United States. The mountains are noted for their grandeur of scenery. On the border of the Park dwell 3,000 Cherokee Indians, the last of their people in the East. The Smoky Mountains offer many alluring trails and fishing streams.

Nearby Cities

Within a short distance of Asheville are located a number of other cities and towns of importance in Western North Carolina. Hendersonville, Brevard, Waynesville, Highlands, Franklin, Tryon, Blowing Rock, Linville, Burnsville, Spruce Pine, Sylva, Dillsboro, Bryson City Murphy, Black Mountain, Old Fort, Marion, Andrews and other communities are resort and trade centers of the "Land of the Sky."

Asheville Chamber of Commerce

The Asheville Chamber of Commerce serves Asheville and Western North Carolina. The Chamber of Commerce is a powerful agency with a membership consisting of prominent citizens. The Chamber of Commerce promotes the progress and prosperity of Asheville through its convention bureau, its publicity bureau, its industrial department, its information bureau and executive departments. Chief officers of the organization include Louis Lipinsky, president and Fred L. Weede, manager. Offices of the Chamber of Commerce are located in the Arcade Building. Visitors are cordially invited to take advantage of the information and other services offered by the organization.

Western North Carolina!

A Market of 390,951*

For the Advertiser !

The Advertiser who would send his message to Western North Carolina's 390,951* people has only to use the columns of the Asheville dailies!

Awaiting him is the $28,557,154.00 yearly retail trade of the city of Asheville . . . plus the additional millions of neighboring towns. Awaiting him, too, is a remarkable reader interest. For The CITIZEN, The TIMES and The Sunday CITIZEN-TIMES are published peculiarly for Western North Carolina—and in return are rewarded with eager reader response.

The Asheville dailies reach this rich market. Furthermore—they are the only medium that does!
